

Shell Sets New Target To Halve Scope 1 And 2 Absolute Emissions, Complementing Existing Climate Goals

28.10.2021 | GlobeNewswire

Royal Dutch Shell plc (Shell) today announces an absolute emissions reduction target of 50% by 2030, compared to 2016 levels on a net basis. This covers all scope 1 and 2 emissions under Shell's operational control and is another strategic milestone on our path to becoming a net-zero emissions energy business by 2050, in step with society.

As we play our part in the energy transition, this additional target forms part of our Powering Progress strategy along with our goals to generate shareholder value, respect nature and power lives. This follows ongoing stakeholder engagement since our Annual General Meeting (AGM).

It is also an important step as we rise to meet the challenge of the Dutch Court's ruling for our scope 1 and 2 emissions, which Shell expects to meet by 2030. Our 2022 business plan will reflect this new target, which we are committed to delivering regardless of whether we win or lose our appeal against the ruling.

Shell also committed to bringing forward its target to eliminate routine gas flaring from its Upstream operated assets from 2030 to 2025.

The company's Powering Progress strategy, announced in February 2021, provides the capital expenditure and financial return profile outlook for each of Shell's businesses and the Group. There is no material change expected in these profiles, as the strategy provides the levers necessary to achieve the targets announced today. Any further updates will be provided as part of our Energy Transition Strategy update at the AGM.

Cautionary Note

The companies in which Royal Dutch Shell plc directly and indirectly owns investments are separate legal entities. In this release "Shell", "Shell Group" and "Group" are sometimes used for convenience where references are made to Royal Dutch Shell plc and its subsidiaries in general. Likewise, the words "we", "us" and "our" are also used to refer to Royal Dutch Shell plc and its subsidiaries in general or to those who work for them. These terms are also used where no useful purpose is served by identifying the particular entity or entities. "Subsidiaries", "Shell subsidiaries" and "Shell companies" as used in this release refer to entities over which Royal Dutch Shell plc either directly or indirectly has control. Entities and unincorporated arrangements over which Shell has joint control are generally referred to as "joint ventures" and "joint operations", respectively. Entities over which Shell has significant influence but neither control nor joint control are referred to as "associates". The term "Shell interest" is used for convenience to indicate the direct and/or indirect ownership interest held by Shell in an entity or unincorporated joint arrangement, after exclusion of all third-party interest.

Shell's operating plan, outlook and budgets are forecasted for a ten-year period and are updated every year. They reflect the current economic environment and what we can reasonably expect to see over the next ten years. Accordingly, Shell's operating plans, outlooks, budgets and pricing assumptions do not reflect our net-zero emissions target. In the future, as society moves towards net-zero emissions, we expect Shell's operating plans, outlooks, budgets and pricing assumptions to reflect this movement.
