

Ng Energy Provides 2022 Year In Review And 2023 Outlook

03.01.2023 | CNW

VANCOUVER, Jan. 3, 2023 - NG Energy International Corp. ("NGE" or the "Company") (TSXV: GASX) (OTCQX: GASX) pleased to provide a 2022 'Year in Review' and its operational road map for the year ahead. 2022 was a transformational year for the Company's operations in Colombia as Maria Conchita was put into production and the Company drilled, tested and completed two successful exploration wells at its flagship block, SINU-9. In 2023, the Company will be focused on securing an infrastructure partner at SINU-9 to begin monetizing the field, as well as increasing reserves and resources through further drilling. An additional well will be drilled at Maria Conchita to increase production with the goal of filling pipeline capacity at 20 million standard cubic feet per day (MMSCF/d).

Key Accomplishments in 2022:

- In January, the Company announced completion of gas plant facilities at the Maria Conchita block.
- In February, the Company was recognized in the TSX Venture 50 for the second year in a row.
- In March, the Company announced light crude oil prospective resources in the western region of the SINU-9 block, with a best estimate recoverable resource of 280 MMboe.
- In May, the Company announced spudding of the Magico-1X well, the first target at SINU-9, and closed a fully marketed prospective financing for aggregate gross proceeds of $17,047,000.
- In July, the Company announced a gas discovery at Magico-1X in the Ciénaga de Oro formation.
- In August, the Company commenced gas production from Maria Conchita and provided flow testing from Magico-1X, with three zones testing 15 MMSCFD at the SINU-9 block.
- In September, the Company provided updated reserves and resources results from the Magico-1x well, adding 36.2 BCF of undeveloped reserves, and announced spudding of the Brujo-1X well.
- In October, the Company announced a binding LOI with Plus+ Energy E.S.P for 8,000 MMBTU of gas produced from Maria Conchita at a fixed price of US$6.50 per MMBTU.
- In November, the Company successfully tested 11.2, 18.2 and 21.2 MMSCFD from three zones in the Ciénaga de Oro formation at the Brujo-1X well (51 MMSCF/d combined).
- In December, the Company announced closing of a $35,000,000 senior secured convertible debenture offering and the appointment of Mr. Jorge Fonseca as CFO. The Company further announced a strategic alliance with COX Energy Services to launch a renewable energy division.

Key Objectives at SINU-9 for 2023:

- Secure a large-scale pipeline partner for the construction of infrastructure and a long-term production agreement.
- Evaluate options and commence early production from successfully completed wells in H1-23.
- Drill, test and complete the Hechicero-1X well in Q1-23.
- Complete an updated reserve report to include Brujo-1X in Q1-23.
- Evaluate oil prospect in the western region of the SINU-9 block.
- Potentially drill additional high priority gas targets.

Key Objectives at Maria Conchita for 2023:

- Drill an additional well to stabilize production between 16-20 MMSCF/d based on management's expectations in Q1-23.

Serafino Iacono, CEO commented, "A great foundation was set in 2022 for many great years ahead as this Company continues to grow. From an operational standpoint, we achieved commercial production from Maria Conchita and made two large-scale discoveries at SINU-9. We look forward to continue adding to our reserves and production base in 2023. I am also very pleased by the additions made to our management team, with Jorge Fonseca joining as CFO, and closing a substantial financing in December to assist with our 2023 objectives. The Company is in a very strong position ending 2022 and we are very excited to achieve many great milestones in 2023."
