Vedanta's next phase of growth will be fueled by its associated companies' investments into Semiconductors (India's first Semiconductor producer in collaboration with Foxconn), display glass (Avanstrate), renewables (through joint venture with KKR), optical fibre (fibre to home) and transmissions. Vedanta's portfolio uniquely covers traditional and cutting-edge businesses.

Vedanta, a global organisation, is set to capitalize on India's growth, stable governance, and the strength of 1.4 billion Indians increasing their reliance on domestic production.
