About SLAM Exploration Ltd:

Exploration for gold along regional fault structures has resulted in significant gold discoveries in the mineral-rich province of New Brunswick. These include the Maisie gold vein system at SLAMs wholly owned Menneval project. With gold and copper trends up to 20 km long, SLAM has identified an area with high potential for additional gold discoveries and acquired the Shadow Lake, Jake Lee, Rogers Lake and Highway projects. The Highway project has known occurrences of cobalt, copper, zinc and silver as well as gold. These projects are associated with the Fundy fault zone and located in southwestern New Brunswick where Galway Metals recently announced a 2.3-million-ounce gold deposit at Clarence stream. Targeting critical elements as well as gold, the Company aggressively pursues new exploration opportunities such as the recently acquired Mine Road project with known occurrences of zinc, lead, copper and silver in the Bathurst minning camp. The Company is evaluating the Cumberland Bay rare earth element (REE) project in central New Brunswick.
