With both a permitted mill and an advanced-stage exploration project, LaFleur Minerals Inc. is on track to become one of Quebec's newest gold producers. That transition positions LaFleur as an ideal candidate to capitalize on both market dynamics and regional policy tailwinds.

LaFleur's Swanson Gold Project lies at the heart of the Abitibi Greenstone Belt, a prolific gold region responsible for more than 200 million ounces of historical gold production. According to LaFleur, the consolidated Swanson Gold Project spans approximately 15,290 hectares, three times the size of the original property acquired from Monarch Mining, and benefits from more than $5 million invested in exploration by the previous owner. This expansion and investment have not only significantly increased the project's footprint but also positioned it as a key player in the region's gold exploration efforts, opening new opportunities for development.

Historical drilling in the project area includes more than 950 drill holes, with 447 located on the Swanson Property alone. Previous drilling has revealed broad zones of gold mineralization, with widths locally reaching up to 40 meters. The area also benefits from previous underground development, including a ramp to a vertical depth of 80 meters for bulk sampling. Notably, Monarch conducted limited exploration drilling outside the main deposit, indicating significant potential for further discoveries.

About LaFleur Minerals Inc.

LaFleur Minerals Inc. (CSE: LFLR) (OTCQB: LFLRF) (FSE: 3WK0) is focused on the development of district-scale gold projects in the Abitibi Gold Belt near Val-d'Or, Québec. The company's mission is to advance mining projects with a laser focus on its resource-stage Swanson Gold Project and the Beacon Gold Mill, which have significant potential to deliver long-term value. The Swanson Gold Project is approximately 16,600 hectares (166 km²) in size and includes several prospects rich in gold and critical metals previously held by Monarch Mining, Abcourt Mines and Globex Mining. LaFleur has recently consolidated a large land package along a major structural break that hosts the Swanson, Bartec and Jolin gold deposits and several other showings that make up the Swanson Gold Project. The Swanson Gold Project is easily accessible by road with a rail line running through the property allowing direct access to several nearby gold mills, further enhancing its development potential. LaFleur Minerals' fully refurbished and permitted Beacon Gold Mill is capable of processing more than 750 tonnes per day and is being considered for processing mineralized material at Swanson and for custom milling operations for other nearby gold projects.
