

AngloGold Ashanti to Commence Drilling at Organullo Gold Project, Salta Province, Argentina

29.09.2025 | GlobeNewswire

VANCOUVER, Sept. 29, 2025 - Latin Metals Inc. ("Latin Metals" or the "Company") - (TSXV: LMS) (OTCQB: LMSQF) is pleased to announce that AngloGold Argentina Exploraciones S.A. ("AngloGold Ashanti"), a wholly owned subsidiary of AngloGold Ashanti plc (NYSE: AU) plans to begin drilling at the Organullo Gold Project ("Organullo" or the "Project"), in Salta Province, Argentina. AngloGold Ashanti has an option (the "Option") to earn up to an 80% interest in the Company's Organullo, Ana Maria, and Trigal Gold projects. This Phase I program will consist of 10 drill holes and approximately 6,000m. The Company expects first drill results to be available in Q1 2026 (Figure 1).

Keith Henderson, President & CEO of Latin Metals, commented "Organullo is one of the most compelling untested gold exploration targets in South America and a high priority greenfields exploration project for AngloGold Ashanti. We are pleased to see AngloGold Ashanti moving the project into the drilling phase, which represents a significant milestone for the Project and for Latin Metals shareholders. This drill program will provide the first real test of this potentially large-scale gold system."

AngloGold Ashanti Planned Drilling

AngloGold Ashanti is targeting a multi-million-ounce, Tier 1 discovery using Salares Norte as a technical analogy (Gold Fields Ltd., proven and probable reserve (2024); 3.4Moz grading 5.36 g/t gold). Three previously unexplored, advanced argillic alteration zones have been identified for initial testing, along a 6km-long strike length. District-scale geophysical anomalies, structural interpretation, surface geochemical data and hyperspectral data further support the potential for discovery of gold mineralization.

Readers are cautioned that the Salares Norte gold deposit analogy mentioned above is located in Chile and that Latin Metals has no interest on or right to acquire any interest in the deposit, and that mineral deposits on similar properties, and any production therefrom or economics thereto, are not in any way indicative of mineral deposits at Organullo or the potential production from, or cost or economics of, any future mining of any of Latin Metals' mineral properties.

Malena VII Acquisition

The Company also reports that following an application submitted to the mining authorities in Salta Province, the Company has secured rights to the Malena VII mining property ("Malena VII") (Figure 1). Malena VII is contiguous with the recently acquired Malena VI property (previous news release dated July 28, 2025) and the existing Organullo gold project, and will form part of the properties included in the existing Option with AngloGold Ashanti.
