"We are delighted to welcome Dan to our team. His exceptional track record of value creation in South America with Solaris Resources and Highlander Silver, together with his extensive Canadian capital markets network and experience, will be invaluable as Andina Copper continues to develop as a leading South American focussed copper explorer holding two significant discoveries and a compelling undrilled copper-gold target along one of the world's premier copper producing belts.

This is an exciting time to be an Andina Copper shareholder as we advance concurrent field activities across our portfolio of high-quality copper and copper-gold discoveries. Exploration is underway at Cobrasco, and preparations are well advanced for the 2025/26 field season at the Piuquenes porphyry copper-gold project in San Juan, Argentina, where project wide geophysics and discovery drilling is planned.

Results from a surface sampling program recently completed to assess the potential of the Mantau copper-gold project in Antofagasta, Chile (refer 18 August 2025 News Release) are also expected shortly".
