

UN Security Council Adopts Resolution: Big Win for the Recognition of Morocco's Sovereignty Over Its Southern Provinces in Western Sahara

03.11.2025 | The Newswire

Steadright Critical Minerals Inc. (CSE: SCM) ("Steadright" or the "Company") is pleased to report a significant Resolution at the UN Security Council.

The United Nations Security Council adopted a Resolution on Friday stating that genuine autonomy for Western Sahara under Moroccan sovereignty could be the most feasible solution to a 50-year conflict with the Algeria-backed Polisario Front. The vote passed with a clear majority and without any vetoes from permanent members.

His Majesty King Mohammed VI, addressing the nation, described the adoption as the start of an important new phase: "There is a before October 30, 2025 era, and an after October 31." Furthermore, the King said Morocco is "starting a new chapter in the process of consolidating the Moroccanness of the Sahara"..." within the framework of a consensual solution based on the Autonomy Initiative" and "be without winners, nor losers."

His Majesty the King celebrated the increased recognition of Morocco's "economic sovereignty" over its southern provinces in Western Sahara from major economic powers such as the US, European Union, UK, France, Russia and Spain.

The resolution follows the mid-October reaffirmation by Massad Boulos, senior advisor to US President Donald Trump, that his country will open a Consulate in Morocco's southern provinces in Western Sahara. In response to questions, he stated: "This is the Moroccan Sahara. As we know, President Trump has affirmed Morocco's sovereignty over the Sahara and emphasized the need for a lasting solution to this issue."

Steadright Critical Minerals CEO, Matt Lewis, congratulates the Kingdom and citizens of Morocco on this very sound UN Security Council Resolution: "We as a company greatly appreciate the warm welcome we have received in Morocco and especially in the southern part of the country. The good news of this Resolution is well-deserved, and should be of great benefit to its fine people. We hope that we can make a small contribution with our projects to the economy of Southern Morocco."
