

American Lithium Minerals, Inc. Announces Strategic Acquisition of Three High-Value Quebec Mineral Projects to Drive Shareholder Growth

19.12.2025 | PR Newswire

American Lithium Minerals Inc. (OTCID: AMLM) is pleased to announce it has secured exclusive options on three premier mineral properties in Quebec, Canada, significantly expanding its portfolio of critical and precious metals projects. These acquisitions position AMLM at the forefront of North America's resource development, targeting lithium, copper, nickel, gold, silver, and rare earth elements (REE).

Acquired Exclusive Options

- Piscou-North Polymetallic Project One of the largest polymetallic opportunities in Quebec, hosting gold, copper, nickel, and lithium. This project represents a cornerstone asset for AMLM, offering multi-commodity exposure in a region known for world-class mineral deposits.
- QC Real Earth Elements (REE) Project A rare earth elements project in Quebec featuring some of the highest REE grades in North America, with assays reaching up to 59% REE. This project strengthens AMLM's position in the critical minerals sector, supporting the growing demand for clean energy and advanced technologies.
- Couture Project (Copper-Silver-Gold) Located on the Quebec-Labrador border, the Couture Project hosts a significant copper deposit characterized by massive sulphide mineralization along a north-south shear zone extending 100 meters, structurally controlled by a major fault system.

Key Highlights:

- Historical high-grade results include copper grades up to 65%, silver assays of 420 g/t, gold values of 0.95 g/t, and additional results of 15% Cu with silver up to 156 g/t.
- The projects offer strong potential for expansion and modern exploration.

Key Benefits

- Diversified Commodity Exposure: Lithium, REEs, copper, nickel, gold, and silver provide AMLM with access to multiple high-growth markets.
- High-Grade Assets: Historical results and exceptional REE grades enhance the company's competitive advantage.
- Strategic Quebec Location: Quebec is recognized as a mining-friendly jurisdiction with strong infrastructure and supportive regulations.
- Long-Term Growth Potential: These acquisitions significantly expand AMLM's resource base, creating opportunities for joint ventures, partnerships, and future development.

Strategic Impact

"These acquisitions represent a pivotal milestone for American Lithium Minerals," said Frank Kristan, CEO of AMLM. "By securing world-class projects in Quebec, we are not only expanding our asset base but also positioning AMLM to deliver sustained growth and enhanced shareholder value. Our diversified portfolio ensures we are well-prepared to meet the rising global demand for critical and precious metals."
