Idaho Strategic Resources Inc. (NYSE American: IDR) ("IDR", "Idaho Strategic" or the "Company") is pleased to announce that John Swallow, President and CEO, will be participating in a panel discussion titled, Precious Metals: Gold Producers Printing Cash - MUX, CNL, IDR at the 38th Annual ROTH Conference.

Event 38th Annual ROTH Conference

Date March 23rd, 2026

Panel Discussion 1:00-1:55pm Pacific Time (4:00-4:55pm Eastern Time)

Location Dana Point, CA

Idaho Strategic Resources President and CEO, John Swallow commented "I am looking forward to attending the 38th Annual ROTH Conference and participating in the gold-focused panel alongside executives from McEwen Mining and Collective Mining. Our participation in last year's conference created many opportunities to tell our production-backed exploration business plan to many new listeners and led to meaningful investor engagement. Our Company and our story have grown significantly since last year's conference, alongside America's recognition of the importance of domestic mineral production. I believe that our participation in this year's conference will resonate even more."

This year's ROTH Conference will consist of 1-on-1 / small group meetings, analyst-selected fireside chats, industry keynotes and panels with executive management attending from hundreds of private and public companies in a variety of growth sectors. Attendees will receive the true ROTH experience with many social components and opportunities for networking with both investors and industry peers.

About Idaho Strategic Resources, Inc.

Idaho Strategic Resources (IDR) is an Idaho-based gold producer which also controls the largest rare earth elements land package in the United States. The Company's production-backed business plan was established in anticipation of today's volatile geopolitical and macroeconomic environment. In addition to gold and gold production, the Company has built a substantial land position in Idaho, providing significant exploration exposure to gold and rare earth elements - in addition to thorium, copper, and silver. IDR finds itself in a unique position as the only publicly traded company with growing gold production and significant blue-sky potential for discovery and development in one Company.
