AGORACOM demonstrated how the use of Artificial Intelligence content will provide Magma with an ability to tell the Company's story to a global investor audience, including:

Alexander (Sandy) Stares, President and CEO of Metals Creek stated, "Metals Creek remains focused on unlocking the gold potential in Timmins. Sharing our progress at the Ogden Gold Project is important, and traditional updates didn't always capture the full story. AGORACOM's Artificial Intelligence content will help us connect more directly with investors, making sure our efforts for advancing Ogden and creating value in precious metal markets reaches the right audiences."

SIGNIFICANT EXPOSURE THROUGH AGORACOM DIGITAL NETWORK

Metals Creek will receive significant exposure through continuous brand impressions, content marketing, and social media engagement across the entire AGORACOM network.

George Tsiolis, Founder of AGORACOM stated "By integrating AI content with verified forums, we are addressing key communication challenges faced by small cap public companies. With artificial intelligence accelerating at exponential rates, small cap companies would have been left behind due to their lack of resources.
